July 30, 2004

Ex-Banker Accused in '94 Rwanda Massacres

BRUSSELS -- A former Rwandan banker accused of participating in the country's 1994 genocide is being held in Brussels, prosecutors said.

Ephrem Nkezabera, 52, was arrested June 21 in Brussels and is being held on charges of genocide and crimes against humanity, said Lieve Pellens, a spokeswoman for the federal prosecutor's office. Pellens declined to release any details of the case, citing its "delicate nature."

Copyright 2004 The Associated Press